THE MILITIA BILL.

Meeting of Nashville Tax Payers.

Speeches of Messrs. A. S. Colyar, Neill S. Brown, Gov. H. S. Foote, Judge Whitworth and Others.

From the Nashville Union & American, 26th.

A meeting of the General Committee, composed of a large number of the tax payers and property holders of Nashville, was held in the club room of the Democratic clubs yesterday afternoon, W. R. Ellisten, Esq., presiding.

Ex-Gov. Foote, from the Sub-Committee appointed to inquire into all the facts connected with the present condition of the city, submitted the following:

The Sub-Committee would report to the General Committee that we have made a partial investigation of the matters submitted to us for examination; that we have reason to believe that there are other facts in addition to those which have come under our consideration, of a nature highly important to be ascertained; that we are not prepared at present to report the precise remedial expedients proper to be adopted by the citizens for relief from pressing grievances; and that, if further time shall be given us for further inquiry, we shall be prepared, Saturday next, to make known the proper judicial remedies.

Gov. Foote asked that the committee be granted more time to prepare a full report. Agreed to.

Gov. Brown said he would like to know where all the bonds were that had been issued. Nobody knew who had possession of them, and asked for further time for the committee.

Messrs. Lelyett and Elliston were added to the committee.

Col. Colyar, speaking of the militia, said:

I am not willing to stand here and see that thing go on in that way. There will not be a vestige of liberty left to any man in Tennessee if that bill is passed. If the Legislature had said that Brownlow is King, it would not have been more expressive than this. He may declare any county in the State of Tennessee under martial law, that means to send all the Constables, Justices of the Peace, Judges, Chancellors and Sheriffs home, to suspend all law and civil officers from the discharge of duty. He may then call out one or more regiments of men from each Congressional district. He has all power upon the question of money. He may then send that military force to these counties and compel the people to pay another sum of money, whatever he may demand. So far as organizing an army of 100,000 men, he has all the power. I am unwilling to stand still and do nothing. I do not propose any violence.

They have a right to organize a Detective Police force as large a number as they please and the law allows them $3 per day. They have the right to put them out on election days. This militia bill is the most monstrous bill ever passed in any Legislature in the world.

Let us assemble and express our grievances. Let us have a large public meeting, and let that meeting appoint a committee of men of sound judgments to report upon the constitutionality of that bill. One of the members of the Legislature said it did not matter whether it was constitutional or not. Such men as these have not minds capable of grasping such a thing as this.

EX-GOVERNOR BROWN'S SPEECH.

I have seen that bill, and I have taken the patience to analyze it. It is the most monstrous bill, perhaps, I ever saw in a country that pretends to be free. It gives the Governor all the power to do anything he desires. He has the sword, for there is no limit to the number of regiments he may call out from each Congressional District. It will be a convenience to the negroes of Alabama and Georgia to come here and join the militia, for they can get rations, clothing and everything else. It is said by some men that Gov. Brownlow will not call out the militia, that he intends for the responsibility to rest upon the members of the Legislature. I can guess what a man of his disposition will do when excited. When it is found that the Democratic party is making headway in some of the regions, there will be men there who will need the militia, and then he will immediately call the militia out into service. I make up my mind that if that bill becomes a law, this State will be covered with militia. I do not care how many Federal soldiers come here. It would give quietude to every family in the State. There is no disloyalty in this State. Whether there will be any Federal troops sent here I do not know. Of all the questions I have crossed my path in my life none have struck me with such deep solemnity as the one now pending the action of the Legislature. If it were possible to cover the State of Tennessee in mourning, it would be but a fit tribute to her mournful condition. I am for peace as long as it can be maintained. There is but one thing worse than peace, and that is dishonor. I know the people of Tennessee are not going to have their houses plundered, their wives ravished, and be driven from the ballot-box like herds of cattle by the militia. And we are expected to stand all this. I will stand as much as I can. If this militia is called out, it will be the ruin of the State. But, sirs, it is useless to stand here and complain about it. I think the people ought all to meet here on next Saturday to enter upon record their solemn protest against the passage of that bill. I did say that when our efforts failed in sending petition to the Legislature for peace, I would never try any more. But I am willing to go with this movement and meet here on Saturday. I will not endure this thing always. If it cannot be stopped by the power of the State I can find another home to cast my lot.

Ex Gov. Foote arose and spoke at some length against the militia bill. He thought the best plan would be to adopt a memorial to the President, setting forth all the grievances with which we are burdened. He thought the people were entitled to the United States military support.

Mr. Colyar moved that Mr. Killiston act as Chairman of the meeting to be held on Saturday, and Mr. Duncan Dorris act as Secretary. Carried.

On motion, Messrs. Brown, Colyar, Foote, and Whitworth were appointed a committee to draft resolutions to be presented to the meeting.

Judge Whitworth was the next speaker who addressed the committee. He said do these men intend to do what that militia bill contemplates? If they are really in earnest, it means no protection, but the destruction of the material interests of the State, and of the people who control it. I have lost every hope of ever controlling anything in the State of Tennessee. I say if we can defeat this bill we will have gained a point more important than any outside party to whom we can appeal. I, like my friend Colyar am unwilling to stand here quietly and see such enormity. If these things are true they mean to exterminate us, to take our property and control it forever. I did not think that they would convert this State to their own use. What does this law contemplate? No King has more power than the present Governor unless he is an absolute despot. He has power over all the money. Give him $50,000 and it would be but a cypher. But what else are they doing? They undertake to get up ten regiments from each Congressional district and they place one on your place, where you have all your stock. He orders them to take it. Is there no remedy for you? No, your land is taken and your property is destroyed. These things must be cherished somewhere.

Col. Colyar offered the following resolutions which were adopted:

Resolved, That the people of Davidson county be most earnestly requested to meet at Nashville on next Saturday, at ten o'clock a m., to protest against the passage of the militia bill, now before the Legislature.

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to prepare and present such protest at such meeting.

The Chair appointed the following persons as the committee:

Judge Whitworth, A. S. Colyar, ex-Gov. Brown, ex-Gov. Foote, E. H. East, Judge Lea, Judge Gaut, —— French and W. Matt. Brown.

The meeting adjourned to meet Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

We urge upon our citizens, one and all, the importance of being present on that occasion.

TENNESSEE.

—Hon. Edwin A. Keeble, a prominent lawyer of Murfreesboro, died last Thursday.

—A great deal of sickness is prevalent along the Tennessee river, consequent on the present dry and chilly weather.

—The corn crops in the northeast portion of Sumner county is doing finely, not having suffered so much for want of rain as other localities.

—Col. Louis Tillman, of Bedford, has been nominated to represent the Fourth Congressional District in the next Congress, vice Mullins laid on the shelf.

—The corps of engineers engaged on the surveys for the branch railroad from Huntington to Jackson, have completed a survey of the route from the former place to Milan, a distance of 20½ miles. They are now making a survey via Spring Creek.

—Mr. E. W. Cole, President of the Chattanooga Railroad, and Maj. Grant, Road Engineer, and Receiver D. B. Cliffe, of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, returned from their tour of inspection on the latter road yesterday morning, and express themselves highly pleased with the condition of the road, which was even found better than was expected.

—The Chattanooga American Union says: T. R. Hockney, Esq., whose reputation for veracity cannot be questioned, reports that in the lower end of this county, the wife of David E. Bright, gave birth on the 19th inst., to three children, two sons and one daughter, weighing in the aggregate eighteen pounds, the daughter eight pounds, and the sons five pounds each, all living and doing well up to going to press.

—A lady named White, living in Maury county, about ten miles from Spring Hill, gave birth, yesterday morning, to four male children, weighing in the aggregate twenty-three pounds. They are all well formed and healthy. The mother is said to be a very fine woman, has been married about three years, and is but twenty-two years of age.

—The Nashville Press and Times of Saturday has the following: Huck Cole, a colored man, was shot in Gallatin on Thursday night about 12 o'clock, by some soldiers of the 5th cavalry, company M. It is said he was walking along the street, on his way from church, when some soldiers, who were standing near a saloon, attempted to snatch his cane from him. He resisted, when one of them drew a pistol and shot him dead. The soldiers were arrested and will be examined to-day.

—The Knoxville Press and Herald learns that a Mr. Faw, father of G. P. and T. A. Faw, Johnson's Depot, Washington county, was killed near that place Wednesday morning, by the down passenger train. He was standing on the track, and owing to his deafness did not notice the approach of the train or the alarm of the engineer. The engineer expected he would move off the track, until it was too late to stop the train. He was struck by the locomotive, knocked from the track, and died from his injuries in a few moments. Mr. Faw was an aged and worthy citizen.

—The McMinnville New Era favors running a ticket in the Presidential canvass, and that "we should suffer no abatement in our organization or efforts to increase or perfect the thorough and complete consolidation of all the elements opposed to Radicalism." That paper says: "District organizations are now being formed in all our upper counties; and we say, continue the work begun under so favorable auspices, and if we do not defeat Radicalism in Tennessee in November, we shall give them such a scare that they will be only so much the easier conquered in the next August election."

—The Bolivar Bulletin of Saturday says: The great invention in the art of telegraphing which was heralded by this paper two weeks ago, is no humbug. In our next issue we will, with the consent and assistance of the inventor, lay some astounding facts before the public. In the meantime the "earth battery" will be doing its mysterious work in the absence of jars or fluids, and in spite of unbelievers abroad. What we first published concerning the discovery was strictly true, and we vouch, again and again, for every word then printed.

THE IMMINENT DANGER IN TENNESSEE.

In another column we publish as "words of comfort" from a notoriously Radical, though professedly Independent organ, (the Cincinnati Commercial), an editorial upon the militia excitement in our State, which together with the report of the meeting of Tax-payers of Nashville, held in that city on Friday last, possess unusual interest at this time for our people. Coupled with the promises of the President and his proposed policies in regard to this military business, we think the editorial referred to and the efforts of leading citizens of Nashville, indicate plainly such determination in official quarters as will secure us a perfect solution of the campaign in Tennessee. The country has no faith in Governor Brownlow, says the Commercial.

RECONSTRUCTION NOT A FAILURE.

It is not uncommon for crime and fraud to appear at the beginning to be crowned with temporary success. The highway-robber succeeds, when he plunders his victim; and the forger while he roots on the fruits of his dexterity. The New York Times says of reconstruction:

Whether the permanent results of reconstruction prove it a failure or a success is a question that can only be usefully discussed when those results are fully known. At present, reconstruction is more or less experimental, so far as it is contingent on the working of the local governments and the operation of the local laws. It has certainly not yet been shown to be a failure in any State; while in seven of the ten States it is a practical success.

That cannot be truly branded as a failure which up to the present point has accomplished its desired purpose. The object of the Reconstruction acts was to restore to the Union the excluded States on conditions favorable to its perpetuity, and to restore to the States themselves the benefits of civil government in a manner adapted to the altered relation of the races. In seven States this object has been attained. They have new governments and new constitutions, both resting on a basis of universal suffrage. For the first time in their history they have constitutions and governments really republican in form and spirit. They again participate, moreover, in the management of national affairs. Their Senators and Representatives have been admitted to Congress. Their Legislatures have assembled without exposing themselves to the charge of invading the rights or imperilling the interests of any portion of the people. The proceedings of these bodies may in some instances have furnished the captious with food for ridicule, and in others may, from our stand-point, seem injudicious. But there has been no actual wrong in any case; and the errors of judgment to which we allude have called forth vetoes and remonstrance from the Executives of three States.

The extent of the success of reconstruction in some of the States may be judged of by the following paragraph:

SOUTH CAROLINA—RIGHTS OF COLORED MEN.

COLUMBIA, August 17.—The House passed the bill putting the negroes of the State on an equal footing with the whites. The colored members demand the right to hotel tables, beds and all licensed places. Several white Republicans voted against the bill, saying that they must go with their own color.

"That cannot be truly branded as a failure, which up to the present point has accomplished its declared purpose." According to that, villainy would never be a failure, when it accomplishes, up to a certain time, its declared purpose. And yet it is always a failure in the end, and never more so than when it seems to be most successful.

The Times recklessly asserts that the Legislatures of the reconstructed States have not invaded the rights or imperilled the interests of any portion of the people. Are no rights invaded or interests imperilled in Tennessee, where eighty thousand white men are disfranchised, and negroes who pay no taxes control municipal elections? Are no rights invaded in Arkansas, and no interests imperilled there?

There has been no actual wrong, in any case, the Times says; but only food for ridicule, and injudicious action, and errors of judgment. Does not every one know that the administration of justice in the reconstructed States is a mere solemn mockery; that men have no confidence in the courts; that jury-trials have become farces; that men have no rights too sacred to be wrenched from them by power; that corruption and demoralization are wide-spread, and the very foundations of the social order, and the bases of morality are broken up? Was it Suvaroff who wrote to his royal mistress, "Order reigns in Warsaw?" It was not a more hideous jest than the jesting of the New York Times.

Is the condition of things here in Tennessee such that the State can be congratulated upon it as a success? A State debt of thirty-six millions of dollars; the school-fund of $600,000 gone, Heaven knows how or where, and all information about it suppressed; Judges appointed and removed and registrations of voters annulled at pleasure by the Governor; the Legislature seriously proposing to authorize that Governor, violent, reckless and unreasoning as he is, to declare martial law in any county, which means arbitrary arrests and imprisonment for opinions, suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus, denial of the right of trial by Jury, and suppression of all journals that dare to speak the truth and censure wrong. No interests imperilled, indeed!

—Vallandigham returned to Dayton, Ohio, on the 27th and is now filling his appointments. He spoke in the 7th ward on Friday night.

In Louisville, on Friday, Joseph Rabbeth, for many years telegraph messenger-in-chief for the Southwestern Union Telegraph Company, committed suicide by shooting himself, in a room in the telegraph building, with a Derringer pistol, the ball penetrating the heart, causing almost instant death. Domestic trouble was the cause, pressing upon a sensative, impulsive mind.

GREELEY ON THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

From the New York Sunday Courier.]

Greeley begins to see the Presidential canvass in clear light, and sees every reason to fear the failure of Grant. He says that the labor that is to insure the triumph of the Republican candidates "is yet to be done;" that six times as many clubs as the Grant men now have are necessary, and that before it can expect to win the clubs must "gather and glean half a million votes from those who are now indifferent or hostile" to the Republican party. And all this, he justly reasons, "implies such a canvass as has never yet been made in our country." For those who fancy the election of Grant and Colfax certain he says: "So far is this from the fact that they are this hour in peril of defeat" and "will surely be beaten if their steadfast supporters are not speedily aroused to general and intense activity." Republicans "have to poll their very last vote in half the States—many more than they ever yet polled in the belt of States beginning with Connecticut and extending through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio to Indiana—or Seymour will be next President." He believes that "there is danger—grave danger"—that Grant will not be the next Executive; not that he doubts of the real supremacy of the Republican party in point of numbers even, but he fears that Republicans will be apathetic and Democrats crafty, and of course dishonest—a view not quite consistent with his other view that his party needs to win half a million votes gained from its opponents or from men indifferent to party.

There could not be any more satisfactory evidence of the likelihood of Seymour's and Blair's election, and of revolutionizing the House of Representatives, than is afforded by these candid confessions of the New York Tribune. We are often asked our opinion as to the prospects of success; and, though never over-sanguine, we think that every thing betokens victory for the Democratic banners, and defeat of the motley hordes of Radicalism.

TENNESSEE.

U. S. Troops or Brownlow's Militia.

What a Radical Organ has to Say.

The Country has no Confidence in Brownlow.

From the Cincinnati Commercial, 28th.]

We hope Gov. Brownlow will not call out the militia in Tennessee, and that the use of military force in preserving the peace in that State may be wholly left to Gen. George H. Thomas, who, fortunately for the country, is still the United States military commander of that department. The whole nation has the most perfect confidence in Gen. Thomas' discretion and coolness. It has not the same faith in Gov. Brownlow. It is the duty of the President to respond to the call of the Governor of the State in case of any insurrection, and Gen. Thomas will see to it that the Executive is not left in doubt as to the real condition of that community. This responsibility should be left precisely where it is. Any disturbances by the late rebels in Tennessee will cost the Democracy more, politically, than they can possibly make by them, unless they have the excuse which the presence of an armed militia would give. Even if the negroes were not organized and armed as part of the State troops, it would still be an array of class against class, party against party, and it would be almost a miracle if either party abstained from wrong. The strong tendency of such a condition of things would be to exasperate still more and more the bitterness and feuds now existing in that State, and to retard very seriously the operation of all influences which tend toward real pacification.

When one party is organized into an armed military force, in possession of the State administration, and the other is organized into a secret association, also more or less completely armed, a higher power must come in as umpire, for it is not in human nature to so use its legal force on the one hand as not to abuse it, nor to be content on the other with a fairness which may be scrupulously careful and just.

It is the duty of the Governor of Tennessee to inform the President and Gen. Thomas, publicly, of the facts which give just ground for fear of outbreak. Publicity will do no hurt. The people of the whole Republic are to judge of the conduct of all concerned, and need to know all the facts. It will then be the duty of the President and his military subordinates, to provide a sufficient force to crush quickly and sternly the first overt act of insurrection. The telegraph is now too extensively a net-work to be seriously endangered by any insurrectionary movement, and the knowledge that such a man as Gen. Thomas has the power and the means to do what may become needful, will itself be a guarantee of quiet. Any outbreak or brigandage which the State civil authorities cannot control, is a sufficient cause to call upon the Federal authorities to interpose with the United States troops. Martial law should be proclaimed in the county where the outbreak is, and Ku Klux brigands, or any other armed disturbers of the peace, should be treated as outlaws, and tried by a drumhead court martial. The Federal authorities can do this with the majesty and power of a superior and impartial government. The State authorities cannot do it without exciting all the passions of revenge and the clamor of self justification belonging to a war of parties or of social classes.

If, as is said, that the President will not act in such a case, we have not the slightest hesitation in declaring that it is for the interest of the country to test him. If the matter is brought before him in such a form as we have indicated, we do not believe he will venture to refuse to Gen. Thomas such means as that prudent officer will deem necessary. But let the whole be made public—the facts which cause the demand for Federal aid, the demand itself, and the reply, and let it be done in ample time. Publicity is, in our Government, the greatest safeguard for the people, and the greatest check upon its officers.

We believe that such a mode of procedure will insure a tranquil election in Tennessee; but even if it should not, the expense in blood and the shock to our institutions will be incomparably less than it would be if the match be applied to all the great magazine of wrath and hatred that has been accumulating in Tennessee for the two years past, by the military array of one party of its citizens against another.

This matter is not one which the Republicans of Tennessee can be allowed to determine wholly for themselves. The whole country has too great a stake in it, and too little faith in the wisdom and judgment of the men who control the Republican party there. The North sympathizes with the wrongs which have made loyal Tennesseeans feel as if they were a beleaguered garrison, but understands also that it will never do to risk the fate of the country upon the action of men who would be more than human if they were not partially blinded by the exasperation which has grown up in their local contests.

Another reason why the arm of force should come from without, is that the Democrats and their disfranchised friends in Tennessee, together, are a large majority of the whole population, and whenever it comes to real fighting, the national forces must, of necessity, interfere. The time, then, to interfere is at the beginning; but, as we have said, proper action on the matter will almost certainly obviate the necessity of interference at all.

The tendency is always a strong one, in party affairs, to swear that our own party is all right, no matter what they do; but in this case the conduct of the Republican party of the whole country must not be determined solely by the action of over-excited and not too sagacious men of the South. To do so will involve perils of the very gravest character. We must not perpetuate a revolutionary era, as we shall be sure to do if revolutionary characters like Gov. Brownlow dictate our policy in matters which affect the whole country, though they may originate in Tennessee. Such an era is in its nature volcanic—full of dangers of eruption and explosion. The times call for cool heads to command. The brains of the Republican party in the North must control Southern men and drift with them.

THE CAMPAIGN IN OHIO.

Patriotic Speech of General McCook at Marietta.

MARIETTA, O., August 27.—The Democrats had a large mass meeting here today. George W. McCook and John F. Follet were the speakers. Gen. McCook spoke first, and commenced by saying he came to address the people of Marietta by appointment of the Democratic State Central Committee, and he intended to speak on important political questions. It is common to say in all Presidential campaigns, that the questions involved are most important; but in his judgment the questions involved in the present campaign are far more important than any which have ever before agitated the people of the United States. Before 1861 we were blessed with abundant prosperity. From a small number of people, at the beginning of the present century, we had grown to be a great and prosperous people. As an instance: Washington county, at the beginning of the present century, was one of eight counties in Ohio, when the whole of Indiana was a single county. Our prosperity up to 1861 was such as no people on earth had ever before enjoyed.

The people of the South were in a prosperous condition, but sectional hate and appeals to their prejudices, and to the prejudices of the people of the North, so fired their hearts that nothing but an appeal to sword could settle the questions at issue.

We had so far forgotten the faith of our fathers that we resorted to the arbitrament of the sword. After four years of bitter war, we have Federal tax-gatherers all over the land, a thing unknown to us before. We in the North have no conception of what the war was. We knew it took our young men from their homes, some of whom now fill Southern graves, and others of them returned to their homes crippled and wounded.

But we knew nothing of the desolating effects of the war upon the South. The people of the South lost everything; they lost all their circulating money, and in slave property their loss is estimated at about $4,000,000,000. The Southern soldier, when he laid down his arms upon the Appomattox, surrendered everything and returned to a ruined and desolate home, to find his wife and children in rags, and perhaps in a worse condition. The Northern soldier, when the war ended, returned to a home of plenty, received his money from the Government, and was welcomed by his neighbors. This was the condition of the two sections of the country at the close of the war. But we were left with a burden of a heavy public debt such as no other nation ever before contracted even in a century. To pay this debt we are now oppressed by onerous taxes. The Government bonds are, however, exempt from taxation. This is wrong. Such exemptions are false in any Government, and tend only to increase the riches of the rich.

Our duty is to repair the Government. Democrats and Republicans should join hands in this matter, and restore the country to its ancient landmarks.

Gen. McCook dwelt, at considerable length, upon the charge made by Republicans that the Democratic party, if restored to power, would assume the payment of the rebel war debt, and denied that any responsible member of the party advocated such doctrine.

We have debt enough of our own to attend to, and we don't propose to assume the payment of the rebel debt, nor grant pensions to the rebel soldiers. Nor do we propose to restore slavery. That institution can only be restored by the policy of the Republican party; and if according to the Republican theories the Southern States were out of the Union, then the thirteenth amendment, abolishing slavery, is void, because some of those States voted to adopt the amendment. If the amendment is void, then slavery is not abolished. We deny that those States were out of the Union, and their adoption of the thirteenth amendment makes it a part of the Constitution of the United States. According to the Democratic theory, therefore, slavery is abolished, while it is not abolished according to the Republican theory. We cannot govern men by the sword; especially can we not govern a people by the sword who know what it is to be free. To attempt to do so will be to destroy our Government. But it would be better to govern the South by the sword than to allow the Government to become corrupted by the presentation of carpet-baggers in Congress from the Southern States. We don't want Northern men sent to the Senate and the House of Representatives from these States. Mr. Lincoln, in a letter to Gen. Shepley said that if he were a member of Congress, he would vote against the admission of such members.

Gen. McCook then discussed the question of taxation, and said:

"We pay heavier taxes than France or Great Britain. The taxes are unjustly assessed. They ought to be levied in proportion to the protection given, which is not now the case. When the Democratic party talk about the Constitution, how often do you hear the expression 'Damn the Constitution?' When we talk about taxes, we are called butternuts. Then they shout Vallandigham at us; but that is getting worn out, and the Cincinnati Commercial—a newspaper, which talks pretty fairly about the Democratic party for ten months in the year, so as to be the better able to steal the votes of unsuspecting Democrats, during the other two months of the year, just before an election the Commercial, I say, wants to know what the Republican party will not do for principles that Vallandigham does. They also shout about Wade Hampton and Joe Brown. Joe, however, is a good fellow. He is the man who built Andersonville prison. He is loyal, however, and that makes the difference."

Gen. McCook then argued the greenback question, indorsing the Pendleton theory. The greater part of his speech was devoted to the discussion of this question, which is so well understood that it is hardly worth while to repeat his remarks. He said nothing about the New York Convention, but he made the assertion that the election of Seymour is a foregone conclusion. Grant is a good soldier, and of all men in the United States perhaps he is the fittest man to be at the head of the army; but he is unfit to occupy the Presidential chair. Seymour is unfit to be at the head of the army; but he is thoroughly qualified to be the chief executive officer of the Government.

—A Pittsburg dispatch of the 28th says Hon. George H. Pendleton passed through there that day, en route for the West. Gen. Rosecrans passed through the evening before, going West.

—An Omaha dispatch of the 28th states that seven hundred and eighty miles of the Pacific road were completed that day.

—Washington advices of the 28th have the following: An evening paper states that a letter was received here this morning from Horatio Seymour, dated Utica, N. Y., August 27th, in which he announces himself in good health and spirits, and certain of the success of the Democratic ticket.

—The facts of Gen. Rosencrans visit as given by the Evening Journal, are simply these: "General Rosecrans has no address in his possession whatever, nor has one, to his knowledge, been prepared up to this time. He says he talked more about railroad matters than on political subjects, and that he was not sent to the Springs by any party or in the interest of any party, but went at his own selection—not, however, on business of the Democratic or any other political party."

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 30.—The Indian Bureau has advices that the present Indian difficulties originated with less than 250 Cheyennes, Arapahoes and Sioux. They are called the day soldiers, are young men, and started from Nebraska to punish their hereditary enemies, the Pawnees, passing through the intermediate country, committed the murders and other outrages already reported, not only against treaty obligations, but wishes of the corporated nations to which they belonged. Officers of the Indian Bureau deprecate the commencement of indiscriminate hostilities against these tribes, but say they should be summoned to a council and the delivery of the offenders demanded by the agents of the Bureau, so that only the guilty shall be made to suffer. In the present temper of the military, any other course will lead to a bloody, costly and protracted Indian war.

DULL.—Matters in police circles were at a dead stand still all day yesterday.

THE WEATHER was clear and warm yesterday. Hope it will continue so, for the benefit of the growing cotton.

NO ARRESTS in the Second District yesterday, and only five up to midnight in the First.

PERSONAL.—Capt. J. W. Boothe, of the Winona (Miss.) Democrat, returned home and "to duty" yesterday, after a week's stay in this city.

PROCRASTINATION is the thief of time, so is Jim Tolliver, a nig, who stole a clock from Mrs. McClure, on Court street, yesterday, and now languishes in Adams street station therefor.

ELMWOOD.—H. S. King & Co. have on hand ten barrels assorted shells, suitable for laying off walks for grave lots. 3t

DROWNED.—We learn that two boys, one white and the other black, named respectively Charles Kirk and Eph. Anderson, were drowned while bathing yesterday evening about two miles below the city. Their bodies had not been recovered at latest accounts.

REMOVAL.—Mr. Isidor Rosenbach announces in big letters in another column that to-morrow, September 1st, he will remove his rectifying establishment and liquor store from its present location to No. 200 Front street. His friends and customers will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

ESCAPED.—We learn that as Serg't Orr was removing the negro prisoner Coale, whose arrest we detailed yesterday morning, from the stationhouse to the jail, Coale knocked him down and made his escape. This negro is by far the most dangerous character now at large upon the community, and we earnestly hope that he may not again be taken prisoner.

MESSRS. C. C. CLEAVES & Co. have removed their bookstore from the corner of Second and Monroe streets to No. 283 Main, near Madison. Messrs. Cleaves & Co. will continue in their new stand to keep on hand the largest and most complete stock of law, educational and classical works, and also the new literature of the day as it appears. All of the magazine literature always to be found on their tables.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—S. M. Robertson begs leave to remind the public that he will open his Commercial College to-morrow, Tuesday, the 1st of September, at the corner of Main and Winchester streets. Especial attention will be given to penmanship and book-keeping. Parents wishing to have their boys thoroughly instructed in the rudiments of a practical English education cannot do better than patronize Mr. Robertson's institution. Terms as moderate as circumstances will allow.

FOURTH WARD DEMOCRATIC CLUB will meet to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, at eight o'clock, at the Stillman Hall. Several distinguished speakers, among whom are the Hon. John W. Leftwich and Judge Stephens, will address the meeting. The Democrats of the Fourth ward should rally in force to the support of this Club. It ought to be the largest of all the ward clubs, and is, we are informed, the smallest. Rally, men, rally!

ST. PETER'S CONCERT.—We have already announced to our readers that a concert would be given at St. Peter's on Tuesday evening next, and that the most distinguished talent of Memphis would be engaged therein. We are happy to be able to announce herewith a sketch of the programme. Among the participants will be Mesdames Kenzing, Miles and Keller, and Miss D——, of New Orleans, Professors Sabatsky and Wheat (who will assist at the organ), and Messrs. Hollenberg and Tomlinson will also contribute their full share to make a grand success. The whole, as we have stated, to be under charge of Prof. Winkler.

Alces' Cigars are the Best.

A STERLING FIRM is that of Messrs. Williamson, Hill & Co., wholesale grocers, cotton factors and commission merchants. These gentlemen—all well known in our business community—announce that they have very much enlarged their already immense stock of groceries and stores, and are now ready for the fall trade. We cordially recommend them to our friends, as gentlemen altogether reliable in all business matters entrusted to them. Mr. N. Hill will, as heretofore, continue to give his undivided attention to the sale of cotton consigned to the house.

ATTENTION SEYMOUR CLUB.—By request of a number of the members, an extra meeting of the Young Men's Independent Seymour Club is hereby called to take place this (Monday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at their old headquarters, Firemen's Hall, corner Adams and Second streets. Business of importance to the organization is to be transacted; campaign documents from the National Democratic Executive Committee will be distributed, and at the same time the invitation to take part in the grand demonstration on the 9th of September will be considered. Let there be a full attendance of the followers of the first campaign banner.

RADICALISM.

The War Between the Beaumont and Eaton Faction.

The Last Word by Chief Commissioner Beaumont.

The publication by us a few days since of the facts, as alleged by Judge Scott, of Texas, of his attempted robbery, by an Arkansian, has originated for the Chief Commissioner of Police of Memphis no little trouble, the latest and worst form of which is a wordy war between the said Commissioner, on the one part, and the editors of the Post, on the other. So far as it has progressed, it discovers to the public of Memphis the possession by both contestants (if they are to be believed—of which, in this case, we have no doubt) of qualities of head and heart for which their party has long had credit in the South. It will be seen that "thief" and "liar" are common terms of reproach, indulged in from one to the other as freely as if long acquaintance and familiarity with each other's weaknesses enabled them to speak by the card.

—On the evening of the 28th August the Post contained this paragraph:

JUDGE SCOTT VS. BEAUMONT.

We have been requested to publish a card from S. B. Beaumont, and also a lengthy letter from Judge Scott, all about the former's extorting money from the latter, but we cannot afford the space. Suffice it to say, Mr. Beaumont very naturally denies the charge of extortion, while the Judge repeats it with minute particulars of the transaction, in substance as presented by the APPEAL, and copied into the Post. He also declares that he can substantiate much of it by other witnesses than himself. He is represented to us as a trustworthy gentleman, Texas Unionist, and Judge of a Texas Court, by appointment of the Provisional Governor.

To which Beaumont responded in the Bulletin of the 29th August, as follows:

A CARD.

MEMPHIS, August 28.

To the Editor of the Bulletin:

The Memphis Post of this date claims that a request was made to have my card on "Judge Scott, of Texas," republished from your paper of the 28th inst. If such a request was made it was without my knowledge and against my wish. I care little for the good or ill will of the editors of that paper, and have but one request to make of them, and that is, that they will restore to me money they have stolen from me and my friends, and with which they were enabled to buy the material for a newspaper establishment, which has been run ever since it was first started for the advancement of the personal interests of the Eaton family. I will pay one thousand dollars reward for the recovery of one-half the amount stolen by these fellows in the last two years, and will not grumble at the price. But as they bag everything they get hold of, and unlike Bagg, of cattle fame, never give up anything, there is strong probability they will get off with their "plunder" "Scott free." S. B. BEAUMONT.

Whereupon the editor of the Post on Saturday evening, indulges in the following morceau, written in Greeley's best vein when abusing the "Little Villain," or "any other man:"

A LIE.

A card in the Bulletin this morning, signed S. B. Beaumont, charges that the money with which the material of the Memphis Post was bought, was stolen from him and his friends by the editors of this paper. We denounce the charge, by him or whomsoever made, as an infamous and malicious lie. We have a Criminal Court, at the bar of which S. B. Beaumont has been repeatedly arraigned. That Court has jurisdiction of the crime with which he charges us. We offer him a reward of one thousand dollars if he will substantiate his charge by a verdict of that Court, or stand branded before this community as an infamous and malicious liar.

The charge comes with a poor grace from a man against whom, in our courts, there are to-day so many indictments for criminal offenses. We doubt not it were a comfort to every man behind the bars to blackguard honest men with charges to which they themselves are notoriously obnoxious.

A CARD TO THE EATON FAMILY.

When the Spanish torredo wishes to work up the rage of his bull to the highest pitch, in order that he may the more amuse the tragedy loving Spanish belles and beaux, he flaunts a red flag in his face, and regardless the furious beast lowers his shaggy head, paws the earth, lashes his sides with his—narrative—and with fearful bellowing, eyes flashing fire, and foam dropping thick and fast from his capacious jaws, rushes with a terrible, but often misguided energy, upon his brutalizing foe.

The cut-headed editor of the Post imitates well the example of his furious but far more formidable Spanish bovine brother, and makes the earth tremble in his desperate efforts to rip open the naughty man who shook the red flag inscribed a brief but truthful history of the scoundrelism of the Eaton family in Memphis.

Bellow away, old bull, make the dust fly under the sharp pricking of truth. You know you have my money, and that of my friends, whom you daily abuse through the columns of your filthy sheet; and though the way which you got it, and now keep it, may not subject you to indictment, it is none the less stealing, meaner far than the dashing highwayman's "stand and deliver."

You came here beggars, soon got above this rather "low" business, took to borrowing on the "confidence game" plan, and finally wound up by stealing a printing office, press, type, engine, boiler and all; and "my brother, the colonel," succeeded in stealing into office, from which he was soon kicked out, as the whole family will eventually be out of their other stealings.

S. B. BEAUMONT.

Hereafter, nothing can be said of the the leaders of the Radical party in Shelby county, so severe as that it cannot be justified by the above scraps of confidential and endearing biography and epithet. The trouble in Africa seems irreconcilable. May it ever continue so.

We will post our readers of the further progress of this interesting engagement.

PROVIDE FOR THE FUTURE.—Unlike animals endowed with a mysterious instinct, candid, reasoning human beings look beyond the pleasures of an hour, or the gratifications of a day. When death does not intervene, childhood quickly gives place to youth, youth to manhood, and manhood to old age and decay. All of us are not successful in amassing fortunes by which we can provide permanently for those whom affection or duty may have placed in our care. To meet this want, life insurance companies have been devised—laudable enterprises, by which a fraction of the fruits of daily labor or a small part of the profits of the mechanic or tradesman of moderate means may purchase a competency for their families in the event of death; and from which the capitalist who risks his means can secure reasonable compensation. The ST. LOUIS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, whose agents are Messrs. McMahon & Otis, are offering to take risks of this sort. The company is in every way reliable pecuniarily, and its stockholders and representatives are reliable gentlemen and fully identified with our own interests. No man with a family should be without some protection for the future. He should insure his life for the benefit of those dependent upon him for support. 2t

ROWDYISM RAMPANT.

A Hackman Assaulted and Cruelly Beaten.

Night before last a man named McCombs engaged a hack-driver, whose name we have been unable to obtain, to drive him out to Huppertown. Arriving there about half-past ten o'clock, the driver was told by McCombs to wait for him, and did so. While waiting, "Bud" Patton, a notorious character, accompanied by one S. F. Makins, came up to him and asked him to take him to town. The driver refused, pleading his engagement, and Patton, seizing a bottle, struck him over the head with it, knocking him senseless for the time being, and cutting him very badly. Patton and his associates then ran off, leaving the victim of their brutality weltering in his blood. These facts having been lodged at the Adams street station, yesterday morning Sergeant Brown arrested Patton and Makin, and lodged them in Adams street station, where they will have an examination to-day. Patton, it will be remembered, is one of the party who made the attempt to rescue Hans Margum, while a prisoner in the hands of Sergeant Brown some months ago, and which resulted in the death of Gus Ringwald.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, August 29, 1868.

The general market presented more animated features to-day, but the business done was mostly of a retail character, in the line of plantation supplies. It is not expected that there will be much wholesale trade until after the first of the month and then it is hoped there will be a gratifying improvement.

Money matters are still dull, and exchange remains easy at the stereotyped rates.

The first bale of new cotton from DeSoto county, Miss., was received to-day by Tobin, Lyne & Co., who paid the producer the handsome premium of $250. It came from the farm of T. O. Bridgeford and will class low middling. The crops in the country adjacent to Memphis are doing well, but in portions of Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama the cotton worm has done immense damage within the past two weeks.

In New York gold was steady all day at 144½. Dealers here reported no transactions worthy of note beyond a purchase of about $400 at 143½. Smaller sums passed at 142½@143.

City Scrip was inactive and nominally 80c in the hands of dealers. No transactions reported.

County Scrip was quiet and steady at 53c buying and 55@56c selling.

Police Scrip was in demand at 77½c. Dealers sell at 80c.

In stocks and bonds there was no movement of consequence, if any at all.

Quotations from the New York stock exchange to-day are as follows: Tennessee bonds, old, '64½; new, '63½; 5 30 coupons of '61, 114½; '62, 114½; '64, 110; '65, 113½. New issue, 108½; '67, 108½; 10 40's, 109. Bonds strong.

The day's transactions in cotton were confined, and as far as reported were one bale low middling and one of good ordinary at 26c, and three bales of ordinary at 25c. The new bale spoken of above will be offered on Monday.

The Liverpool cotton market was steady at 11d for Uplands, and 11¼d for Orleans. Sales 12,000 bales.

In New York cotton opened quiet, but weak, and closed dull and nominally 30@30½c for uplands, and other grades unchanged. Sales 800 bales. Week's receipts at New York, 181 bales; at all U. S. ports, 1375 bales.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Natoma, Capt. James Lee, arrived from Napoleon yesterday, with a good trip of freight and passengers. She brought up nine bales of new cotton, which were consigned to the following parties: Judson & Co., two bales; Williamson, Hill & Co., one bale; Anderson & Watson, one bale; Galbreath & Stewart, two bales; White, Kerr & Rooter, one bale; Farrington & Howell, two bales.

Capt. John D. Adams, Superintendent of the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Company, arrived in the city yesterday morning on the Natoma.

The steamboatmen, true to their principles, are rallying to the support of Seymour and Blair. A convention of the Democratic steamboatmen of St. Louis have just prepared an address to all boatmen on the Western waters, urging them to support the Democratic nominees.

James Dinwiddie, formerly clerk of the steamer R. E. Lee, is in the city and is stopping at the Overton. He leaves this evening for New Orleans. We expect to see him soon occupying a position on one of our first class steamers.

Capt. William McVay, formerly of the Lee, but now of the Gov. Allen, arrived in the city yesterday. He is quite sick and is confined to his room in the Overton.

J. W. Forsee, Esq., of the firm of Judge & Forsee, steamboat agents in Louisville, arrived yesterday and is stopping at the Overton.

Andy Granger, formerly clerk in the Arkansas river trade, is also in the city.

The L'zzie Gill passed down yesterday afternoon with a full load for New Orleans.

The W. K. Arthur is over due from New Orleans.

A few days since we noticed that a pilot at Pittsburg had his license taken away for racing boats. We now see that the Grand Jury of the United States District Court at Pittsburg are procuring testimony in regard to the steamboat racing on the Monongahela, and it is thought the owners of the rival boats will be indicted.

Our readers will recollect that not long ago some clerks were arrested suspected of robbing the mail near Pittsburg. True bills have been found against two of them: William H. Wilson, Clerk of the Eliza Bennett, and William H. Frianday. They will probably go to the penitentiary.

The fine steamer Natoma, Capt. Jas. Lee, will leave the wharf to-day at 5 p.m. for Napoleon, the bends and Arkansas river, connecting at Napoleon with the American for Little Rock and points on the Arkansas. Messrs. Billy Fields and Stack Lee have charge of the office.

The magnificent and palatial passenger steamer R. E. Lee is receiving at the wharf for New Orleans and the bends, and leaves to-day at 5 p.m. She offers great inducements to shippers and travelers, in the point of speed and comfort. Capt. John Cannon, the pioneer of the Vicksburg trade, commands, with Mr. Roberts, a genial and clever gentleman, in charge of the office.

The Belle Memphis, Capt. Crane, is the regular Cairo and St. Louis packet, leaving to-day at 5 p.m. Billy Bleaker does the honors of the office.

The Commercial, Capt. John Edson, is the regular Tuesday White river mail packet, leaving to-morrow at 5 p.m., connecting with the Little Rock Railroad for all points on the Arkansas. Clay Rice and James Salisbury, clerks.

The good steamer Luminary, Capt. James Luker, will leave the wharf to-day at 5 p.m. for Vicksburg and the bends. Capt. Lee Finney, an attentive clerk and obliging gentleman, has charge of the office.

The fine steamer Des Arc, Capt. John D. Elliott, has dropped down to the wharf to leave for White river, and leaves to-morrow on her first trip. She will ply regularly in the Memphis and White river trade, as a Tuesday packet. Messrs. Joseph Elliott and Mat Glass are her clerks.

The Mollie Hambleton, Capt. Bowman, is the regular Tuesday St. Francis river packet.

The splendid passenger steamer H. M. Shreve, Capt. Carter, will leave the wharf to-day at 5 p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis.

STEAMBOATMEN'S CLUB.—The regular weekly meeting of the Steamboatmen's Seymour Club will take place at the Stillman Block, this evening at eight o'clock. Able speakers will be on hand, and the ladies are especially invited to attend. By order of the President.

W. T. WOOD, Recording Secretary.

The Americus, Maggie Hayes and Fanny Brandies are due from the Ohio. The Commonwealth is due from New Orleans. The Bismarck is due from St. Louis, bound for New Orleans.

Capt. Dick English, river editor of this paper, was prospecting in Louisville on Thursday.

Portland bar is again getting quite troublesome, several boats were reported aground there on Friday.

Navigation between here and Cairo is getting precarious for heavy-ladened boats.

Bob Lodge, Esq., the heavy clerk of the low-pressure Richmond, is in the city. He is en route South to inspect the cotton crop.

Capt. Thomas B. Rhodes, on the part of the Northern Line Packet Company, has contracted, at Wheeling, for the hull of a new packet. The machinery, cabin, etc., will be put on at Pittsburg. The same company will in a short time contract for two more boats, one of which is intended to be finer and faster than any steamer that ever went to St. Paul.

Dam No. 1 of the Monongahela shoals-water is undergoing some repairs, the water having got so low as to afford an opportunity to make the same.

Mr. Shannon, and others, of Madison, Ind., are making up a tow of hay at Aurora, consisting of three coal barges, with capacity for 1000 tuns—6000 bales—for the Southern market. The barges will be towed to New Orleans by the Sam Merwin. The propeller J. R. Pratt left Cincinnati Wednesday, having undergone thorough repairs, to make up a similar tow at Vevay for the Southern market.

BUCKEYE SALVE

CURE OF EVERY FORM

— OF —

HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES

WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT origin, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by

External Application,

No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhea and Dysentery.

The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are, at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.

Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try everything they can learn of purporting to cure the disease, yet to allay a permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.

To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The

BUCKEYE SALVE

is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the

ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC

Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in a little time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of trial without a failure, to perform all the proprietors claim for it, if the directions are attended to.

A large number of gentlemen throughout the country of high character and influence have voluntarily attested to its efficacy in their own cases, but from modesty, and a case certificates may be seen by reference to the publications.

The proprietors will forward to any address one bottle, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price, $1 00 per bottle.

A Liberal Discount to Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

COTTON GINS

THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for saving and keeping the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Pratt Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 260 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the "Seed Cotton Gin before the war but now a Planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands in the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This gin saves the hulls, seed, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect.
